Meeting Notes

- The group agrees to continue with the idea, and start coding the website
- Andor gave a walkthrough of the branch-system on Github
    - General code practice: Comments in code should be made in english for easy readability
    - Use pull requests and a new branch when doing larger modifications
    - Follow WCAG guidelines

- Decide on which CSS foundation to use on the website, flex or grid?
    - Grid is not supported by older browser from some years back
    - Flex is supported around three years back, so we choose to go with it.
- Decide which JavaScript version to use:
    - ES6 is well supported now, and has a lot of useful features.
- Group agreed that we should find a "project name", design the layout (navbar, content, footer, color design) and a logo.
    - Different names were proposed: "Peiling, Foodscan, Ecoscan, Bærnæring, Sustain, See Food, cFood".
    - Think about different project names until next time and decide during the next meeting.
    - Think about how the app will work in practice and other ideas to improve the idea.
